

Image's Inc Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 2025

At Images, Inc., our purpose is to help our customers capture, preserve, and share life's important moments through professional and personal photography, and personalized products. We are equally committed to respecting your privacy.

This Privacy Policy ("Policy") explains how Images, Inc collect and use personal information, and the choices you can make. This Policy applies to your use of images-sc.com and our other general audience websites, applications and services that link to this Policy. This Policy also addresses information we collect from you when you schedule an appointment to be photographed by Images, Inc at one of our events, when you contact one of our customer service representatives, or when you respond to a survey or enter a contest or sweepstakes that we administer.

We encourage you to read this Privacy Policy in its entirety before using our services. By creating an online account, using our services, or making a purchase with any of our brands, you acknowledge that you have read and agree to this Privacy Policy.

If you are an educator, parent, or student, and Images, Inc is providing school photography services to your school or organization, please see our Policy titled Pre-K-12 Educators and Parents

What personal information do we collect? How do we use that information?

We collect various types of personal information when you register with any of our websites, mobile sites, or mobile applications (our "Sites and Apps"); purchase any products or services from us; schedule an appointment to be photographed; visit or are photographed at one of our offices, studios, or on-site photography locations; contact one of our customer service representatives; or complete a survey or enter a contest or sweepstakes that we sponsor. This information may be collected directly from you (for example, when you complete our forms or enter your information on our websites to make a purchase) or indirectly through your device or browser when you visit our Sites and Apps.

We use your information to fulfill product orders, to customize and improve the advertising and content you see, to offer suggestions for personalized products based on your content, to deliver marketing communications and promotional materials that you may be interested in, to contact you and provide customer service, to protect the security or integrity of our databases or websites, to detect and prevent fraud or illegal activity, to take precautions against liability, to detect and remediate violations of our Terms of Use or other misuse of our Sites and Apps, to develop and improve our products and services, and for internal operational purposes.

In addition to any personal information that you might provide when you do things like buy our products and services or create an account with our brands, we may also have access to other information about you if you interact with our brands via social media, if you are photographed by Images, Inc, or in certain other situations.

Social Media

If you log into your account with us through a social media site, we will also have access to certain information from that site, such as your name, account information and profile photo, in accordance with the site's account verification procedures. Also, if you interact with content on our social media profiles (for example, if you "like" or share a post from one of our Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram accounts), those social media sites may share information about you with us, including your public profile, e-mail address and friend list. If you choose to "like" or share content, information about you may be publicly displayed on the social network, depending on your privacy settings. You should review the privacy policy of that social media site and check your privacy settings through that site. If you post information on a social media or another third-party service that references our brands or our products and services (e.g., via a Twitter hashtag), we may publish your post on our social media accounts or websites.

Professional Photography by Images, Inc

Images, Inc provides professional photography services to organizations across the state of South Carolina. When an organization you (or your child) are affiliated with (for example, your child's sports league, your university, your employer, or your place of worship) engages Images, Inc to photograph you (or your family members), that organization may provide basic roster information about the people who will be photographed to help us facilitate Picture Day and process and fulfill product orders. We limit the information we collect to only what is necessary for Picture Day and other related purposes authorized by your organization (such as creating a yearbook). We collect this basic information to match names to the pictures we take and for efficient distribution within the organization. We may also receive your email address to deliver Picture Day-related communications on behalf of your organization. In those cases, we do not retain or use your contact information for any other purpose unless you become our customer by purchasing our products, or if you opt in to receive updates and promotional offers from us.

We may also collect your information to incorporate it into other items that we are providing to your organization. Your organization controls how much, or how little, information is used in producing these items, and your organization is solely responsible for obtaining any consents necessary for Images, Inc to provide its services and produce those items. If you have any questions about what information your organization shares with Images, Inc for Picture Day or for use in any products provided to your organization, please contact your organization directly.

Cookies

We and our service providers collect information about how you use our services – for example what web or mobile pages you have viewed – to analyze trends, generate analytics, provide a better user experience, improve our products and services, detect, and prevent fraud or security incidents and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. Our Sites and Apps use pixel tags, web beacons, and similar tracking technologies (collectively referred to as “Cookies”) that are created when you use our online services and are stored on your computer or mobile device.

Cookies help us offer convenient features like storing the contents of your shopping cart until you are ready to check out, remembering your login and account settings, recognizing your browser when you visit, customizing your current and future visits, and providing you with information about products that interest you. Cookies help us personalize your experience and save time during checkout. We also use the information we collect to compile statistics about our visitors and their use of our site to monitor site traffic, develop marketing programs, and improve our website design and content.

We use the information collected by our third-party service providers using Cookies to analyze and track data, improve our services, determine the popularity of certain content, and better understand our users’ online activity. Our service providers may also show you advertisements for our products and services on other websites, and may combine this information with other information those service providers have gathered about your visits to those other websites so that the advertisements you receive are more likely to be of interest to you.

Other Sources

We may also obtain data that is publicly available or from third party sources, such as address verification services, to improve the accuracy of and add to what we know about our customers and prospective customers. We may combine this publicly available information with your personal information for the purposes described in this policy.

Employment

In addition to information collected from our customers, we and our service providers also collect certain information from candidates who apply for a job with Images, Inc to contact you about your application and evaluate your qualifications for the position, including your name, phone number, e-mail address, postal address, education information, and employment information.

How do we share your information with third parties?

We do not sell, license, or share the personal information we collect with unaffiliated third parties for their marketing purposes. We may share personal information in the following situations.

Service Providers

We sometimes use third-party service providers to act on our behalf, for example to help us fulfill your product orders, process payments, enhance and personalize your shopping experience with us, or to deliver our advertisements. Our service providers may receive your name and contact information, payment information, photos, and other content you upload to our Sites and Apps, information about purchases you have made, cookies and other device identifiers, IP address, and website browsing and interaction activity. These service providers are only allowed to use your information in connection with the specific service they provide on our behalf.

Law Enforcement, Mergers, and Other Situations

We may be required to share your personal information in other, limited circumstances. For example, we may be required to share certain information to respond to a subpoena or similar judicial process, to comply with state, federal or local laws, to protect the security or integrity of our databases or website, to take precautions against liability, in the event of a corporate reorganization or, to the extent required by law, to provide information to law enforcement agencies.

Additionally, your information may be transferred to another organization if, for example, we transfer the ownership or operation because we have merged with or have been acquired by another organization, or if we liquidate our assets. In those cases, the new company's use of your information will still be subject to this policy, and the privacy preferences you have expressed to us. If for any reason this policy and your preferences can no longer be honored, your school administration will be given a choice of whether their data is transferred to the new controlling organization.

We may also share Images, Inc photographs with law enforcement in accordance with our Operation Child ID® community child safety program. See the section titled What is Operation Child ID® - A Community Child Safety Program by Images, Inc Studio in our General Audience Privacy Policy for more information.

Does our website collect information from children?

Our Sites and Apps are intended for use by general audiences and are not targeted directly at children. We will not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children. If we become aware that a child under the age of 13 has provided personal information through our websites or apps, we will remove their personally identifiable information from our files. If a parent or guardian becomes aware that their child has provided such information through our websites or apps, the parent or guardian should contact us in writing at saycheeze@images-sc.com so that we may respond appropriately.

What options do you have to limit our collection and use of your personal information?

You have choices about how your information is collected and used. You can notify us of your preferences when you create an account with us, and if you would like to review, correct, or delete your account information on our Sites and Apps, you can do so by logging in to your account or by contacting us directly. There may be times when we are unable to fulfill your request – for example, if providing access to your personal information would reveal confidential commercial or proprietary information or personal information about someone else (and we cannot separate your data), if we are prohibited by law from disclosing the information, or if we have a legal obligation to retain certain data. We may require additional personal information from you for the purposes of verifying your identity and rights.

If you are a resident of California, please see our section titled Supplemental Notice to California Residents to learn more about your rights.

If you are using Facebook to login

To disable your login connection between Facebook and your Images, Inc account, select the Remove button from the Facebook section of your Account Settings Page. By doing this, Images, Inc will no longer access your Facebook information for verification. Your Images, Inc account will still exist but you will be required to sign in using an email address and password.

Opting out of Marketing Communications

If you no longer want to receive marketing communications from us, you can unsubscribe by following instructions contained in the messages you receive, by changing your marketing preferences through your Account Settings, or by contacting us through our Help page. We reserve the right to send you certain communications relating to the services we provide, such as service announcements and administrative messages (for example, communications related to a pending order, an unresolved customer service issue, or a policy update). We do not offer you the ability to opt-out of receiving those communications.

Cookie Options

If you do not want our Sites and Apps to collect information using Cookies, you can change your web browser settings to reject Cookies from the site or to alert you before a cookie is placed on your computer. Each browser is different, so you should check your browser's "Help" menu to learn how to change your cookie preferences. Please note that cookie-based opt-outs only apply to the specific computer and browser on which the opt-out cookie is applied. If you accept a cookie, you can delete it at any time through your web browser. If you choose not to accept Cookies, though, you will not be able to enjoy all the features available to our registered users. The Network Advertising Alliance ("NAI") and the Digital Advertising Alliance ("DAA") offer opt-out tools to help you manage your choices for participating companies that use Cookies for Interest-Based Advertising and cross-app advertising. For more information about these tools please visit: NAI Opt-Out Page and DAA Opt-Out Page. You can also opt out of Google cookies by installing Google Analytics' opt-out browser add-on and/or the Google Google Advertising Cookie out-out browser add-on.

"Do Not Track" is a preference you can set in your web browser to let the sites you visit know that you do not want them collecting information about you. Our sites do not currently respond to "Do Not Track" settings.

How do we keep your information secure?

Although no website, application, database, or system is completely secure or "hacker proof," we have safeguards in place to protect against unauthorized access and disclosures of the personal information we control. At the most basic level, we restrict physical access to our servers to only those people responsible for their operation. As a matter of process, we provide training to our staff on current security measures and we contract for routine penetration testing by outside experts. And at the deeper technical layer, we utilize current best practices from coding and encrypted data transport to real-time monitoring of our firewall and intrusion detection systems. Despite these measures, however, we cannot guarantee that our information security safeguards will never be compromised.

Our Sites and Apps may be linked to other websites or may contain links to other websites. This Privacy Policy only applies to our Sites and Apps, and we are not responsible for the privacy practices, security standards, or content of other sites. You should check the privacy policies of those sites before providing your personal information to them.

How do we make updates to this policy?

As we implement new technology and introduce new services or otherwise change our privacy practices, or in response to changes in applicable laws or regulations, we may modify this, Policy. If we ever modify this Privacy Policy in a material way, we will notify our customers via email. Changes to our Policy will become effective when posted and your continued use of our websites, mobile applications, and/or other services following such notice acknowledges your acceptance of such updated terms.

Pre-K-12 Educators and Parents Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 2024

At Images, Inc Studio & Publishing Co., our purpose is to help our customers capture, preserve, and share life's important moments through professional and personal photography, and personalized products. We are equally committed to respecting your privacy.

This Privacy Policy ("Policy") explains how Images, Inc Studio & Publishing Co. ("Images, Inc," "we," "our," or "us") collects and uses student information for the use and benefit of the schools and school districts for their administrative and educational purposes.

We encourage you to read this Privacy Policy in its entirety before using our services. By creating an online account, using our services, or making a purchase with any of our brands, you acknowledge that you have read and agree to this Privacy Policy.

How do we share your information with third parties?

We may share personal information in the following situations.

Service Providers

We sometimes use third-party service providers to help us fulfill your product orders. These providers may receive some or all your school provided information, but they are only allowed to use your information in connection with the specific service they provide on our behalf, and never for their own marketing purposes.

We only share information when necessary, and then with only trusted service providers to the school market and providers we know to have privacy practices in line with our own and/or the Student Privacy Pledge.

Law Enforcement, Mergers, and Other Situations

Images, Inc Studio Professional Photography

The following frequently asked questions relate to Images, Inc professional photographs taken in portrait studios, schools, businesses, and other organizations that Images, Inc serves.

Does Images, Inc use my photos for marketing?

Not without the permission of the photo subject. Images, Inc is proud of its work as a professional photographer, and from time to time we request permission from our customers to display their photos as samples of our work. Images, Inc does not use its customers' photographs in marketing or advertising materials to third parties without first obtaining a photo release from the photo subject (or, in the case of a minor, the photo subject's parent or legal representative).

Does Images, Inc share my child's school photos with my child's school?

Yes – schools across the state of South Carolina entrust Images, Inc to photograph students and staff as part of the time-honored tradition of Picture Day. Images, Inc provides those photos to the school for use in the school yearbook, student IDs, classroom seating charts, and other school-related purposes. Images, Inc also offers the photographs for purchase by parents.

How long does Images, Inc keep photos? What are my options?

When Images, Inc is engaged by a school as its official photographer, the photos we capture are deleted in the ordinary course of business within a reasonable time after we have fulfilled our contractual obligations, except for photos associated with parent/customers who elect to purchase from us. Unless purchased by a parent/customer, we retain school photos only as long as necessary to satisfy our obligations to the schools we serve.

If you wish, you can take steps to have your photos deleted from our systems earlier, by contacting us at saycheeze@images-sc.com. We may require certain information from you to validate your request before deletion. Please be aware, however, that Images, Inc may deny your request and retain your photos under certain limited circumstances – for example, if we have a contractual commitment to a school or other organization you are affiliated with (such as providing yearbook photos or the yearbook itself), if doing so would violate a law or court order, or if it would be unreasonably burdensome. Also, please be aware that, if you shared your photo with other purchasers, your photo deletion request will not affect any photos retained in others' photo libraries or those purchasers' archiving preferences.

Specific to Pre-K-12 Educators and Parents

Since 2013, Images, Inc has been a trusted provider of school services, providing photography services to schools and families across the state of South Carolina. Images, Inc photographs children by agreement with the schools we work with. We offer time-honored Picture Day products to the families of children we photograph while fulfilling a necessary role at no charge to the school.

In preparation for Picture Day, Images, Inc requires certain basic information from your child's school record, such as name, grade, and homeroom teacher name. Below are several Frequently Asked Questions ("FAQs") regarding the basic information that Images, Inc needs to provide its photography services. These FAQs are intended to provide answers to questions that you may have about Images, Inc's use of such information and to demonstrate Images, Inc's commitment to your child's privacy and security.

What student personal data does Images, Inc receive from schools?

The information we need for Picture Day depends upon the specific services and deliverables Images, Inc is providing your school. We limit the information we collect to only that which is necessary for Picture Day and related authorized school purposes. We collect the basic information in advance of Picture Day to match names to the pictures we take and for efficient distribution within the school. We may receive your email or mailing address to deliver Picture Day-related communications on behalf of the school. In such cases, we do not retain or use your contact information for any other purpose unless you opt-in to receive updates and promotional offers from us.

In addition, the information may be incorporated into other items that we are providing to your school. For example, if Images, Inc is producing student ID cards, we need the student ID number to do the job. Our yearbook image product includes images of students sorted by name, grade, and other classifying data per your school's requirements. Images, Inc never has access to sensitive information, such as grades or attendance data, from your child's record.

How does Images, Inc use the information it receives from schools?

As part of our agreement with your child's school, Images, Inc provides various services that support the school's administrative needs, which may include student ID cards for lunch, library and transportation purposes and digital images for the school to use for student recognition, awards, teacher tools, yearbooks, memory books, and class composites. These services are provided throughout the school year. Images, Inc uses the basic information that it collects solely as necessary to produce such items for the school, to deliver Picture Day-related notices on behalf of your school, and to provide you opportunities to purchase your child's school pictures.

- Images, Inc does not sell, trade, or share student data collected from your child's school with third parties for their marketing purposes, nor do we use such data in ways that are unrelated to the purposes authorized by the school.

Images, Inc retains the basic information it collects from schools only as necessary and permissible to promote the sale of school pictures to parents, to retrieve the images to supply picture orders, and to support the school for an approved administrative purpose. Once such data is no longer needed for school-specific purposes, it is securely destroyed Unless purchased by a parent/customer, we retain school photos only as long as necessary to satisfy our obligations to the schools we serve.

While retained or any reason, it remains under Images, Inc's control and treated as confidential information.

Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act ("FERPA")

In its role as the official school photographer, Images, Inc photographs all students who appear at the camera on Picture Day, and we rely on your child's school or district to obtain any parental consent necessary for us to do the work they engaged us for. Our photographers reasonably presume that they are permitted to photograph everyone who appears at the camera for that purpose. If you are a parent who does not want your child to participate in your school's Picture Day, you must pre-arrange with the school not to have your child photographed.

Images, Inc acknowledges its obligations as a service provider to your school for student and staff photography pursuant to the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA"). Your school retains the authority to control Images, Inc's use of the information it provides to Images, Inc and to require its return or destruction at any time.

What are my options as a parent?

Parents have the right to access any data we have on them or their children to review or correct it. We will honor a parent's image/data deletion and/or modification request, subject to verification, and authorization of the school when deletion would impact our ability to deliver an item or service requested by the school.

We generally recommend these requests be handled through the school, but requests for access, modification/deletion not affecting an item or service requested by the school, or any questions about your personal data may also be directed to saycheezw@images-sc.com

If you choose to purchase your child's school photos from Images, Inc, the personal information you provide to us will be treated as customer information and used as described in our General Audience Privacy Policy

Note to Schools and Parents about Images, Inc Pre K-12 Applications

Some Images, Inc -provided websites, applications, and online services are designed for the use and benefit of the schools and school districts for administrative and educational purposes and used by or at the direction of teachers or other school or district employees. Applications include the Info Spot Portal for school administrators and our Images, Inc -offered Yearbooks applications and online tools.

With respect to our support Applications, Images, Inc will:

- not collect or use student personal data beyond what is needed for authorized school purposes;
- not sell or rent student personal data;
- not use or share student personal data for advertising or similar commercial purposes, such as behavioral targeting of advertisements to students;
- not build a personal profile of a student, other than for supporting authorized educational or school purposes or as authorized by the parent, guardian, or student of appropriate age;
- require that our vendors with whom student personal data is shared to deliver the school service, if any, are obligated to implement these same commitments for student personal data.

A school, through its authorized representative, may elect to allow students to contribute to the school yearbook using an Images, Inc Yearbook application. In accordance with the Federal Children's Online Privacy Protection Act of 1998 (COPPA, 15 U.S.C. § 6501 et seq.), we will never knowingly solicit, nor will we accept, personally identifiable information from users known to be under thirteen (13) years of age without the consent of their educational institution or the child's parent or guardian.
